

Internet Society

COMCAST

NBCUniversal

The Applied Networking Research Prize recognises:

- the best recent results in applied networking
- interesting new research ideas of potential relevance to the Internet standards community
- and upcoming people that are likely to have an impact on Internet standards and technologies

Nominations for ANRP 2025 are open until 15 November 2024 – https://www.irtf.org/anrp/

ANRP
Applied Networking Research Prize

Internet Society

COMCAST

NBCUniversal

Two ANRP awards earlier in the week:

- Sawsan El-Zahr for her work to reduce the carbon footprint of Internet routing
- Mingshi Wu for his work to understand censorship of fully encrypted traffic

Papers and slides at https://www.irtf.org/anrp/

Applied Networking Research Workshop

- Applied Networking Research Workshop 2025 will co-locate with IETF 123 in Madrid in July 2025
  - Anna Brunström and Ryan Beckett will organise

- Look out for the call for papers early in the new year, with a submission deadline in April 2025

ANRW 2025
Applied Networking Research Workshop

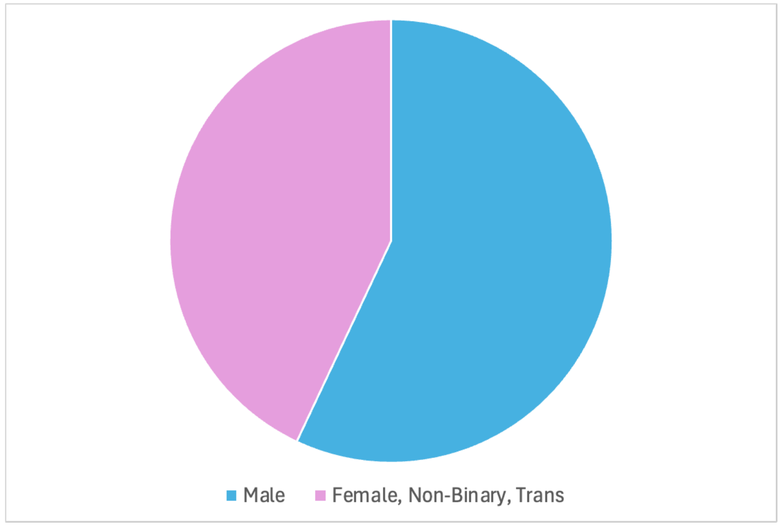
acm sigcomm

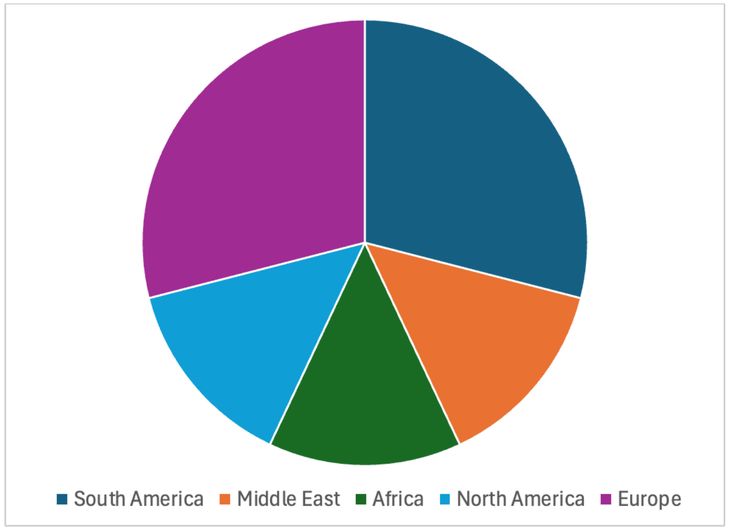
IRTF

https://irtf.org/anrw/2025/

IRTF Diversity Travel Grants

The IRTF is pleased to offer travel grants to support early career academics and PhD students from under-represented groups to attend the IRTF meetings co-located with the IETF

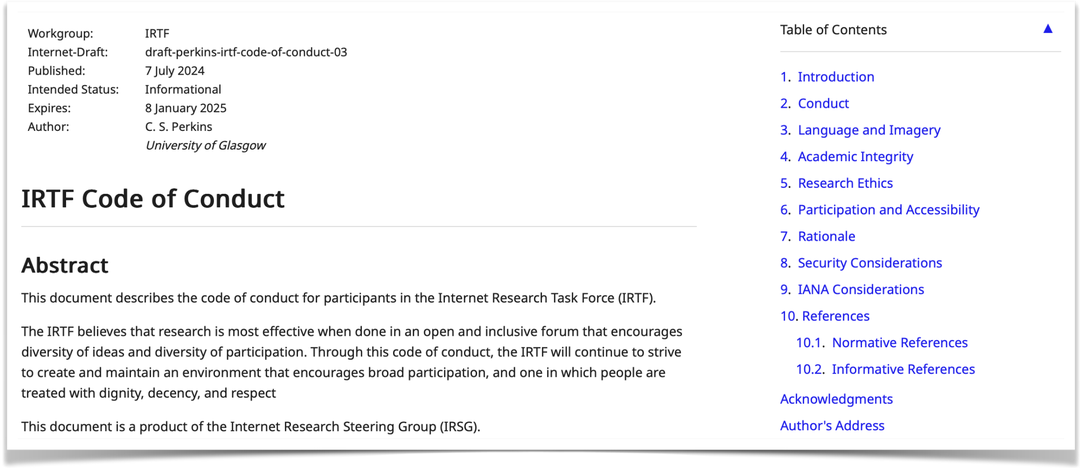




https://irtf.org/travelgrants

IRTF Code of Conduct

- The code of conduct for the IRTF, draft-perkins-irtf-code-of-conduct, is in IRSG ballot – resolving final details prior to approval
  - The IETF code of conduct (RFC 7154) is focussed on effective conduct of the standards process; this new IRTF code of conduct considers effective conduct of research
  - Both reference the same anti-harassment policy, ombudsteam, inclusive language guidelines, etc. – all the common content is in these guidelines



Workgroup: IRTF
Internet-Draft: draft-perkins-irtf-code-of-conduct-03
Published: 7 July 2024
Intended Status: Informational
Expires: 8 January 2025
Author: C. S. Perkins
University of Glasgow

IRTF Code of Conduct

Abstract

This document describes the code of conduct for participants in the Internet Research Task Force (IRTF).

The IRTF believes that research is most effective when done in an open and inclusive forum that encourages diversity of ideas and diversity of participation. Through this code of conduct, the IRTF will continue to strive to create and maintain an environment that encourages broad participation, and one in which people are treated with dignity, decency, and respect

This document is a product of the Internet Research Steering Group (IRSG).

Table of Contents

1. Introduction
2. Conduct
3. Language and Imagery
4. Academic Integrity
5. Research Ethics
6. Participation and Accessibility
7. Rationale
8. Security Considerations
9. IANA Considerations
10. References
    10.1. Normative References
    10.2. Informative References

Acknowledgments
Author's Address

- Thank you to the IRSG and all others who contributed to this important draft!